

Michael Jackson

By Guy Portelli

9th March 2010

The Mall Galleries in central London saw Guy Portelli officially launch his latest sculpture, Michael Jackson.

Standing nearly six foot high, this magnificent piece made from gold plated aluminium and mosaic took centre stage stunning the crowd, with its fine workmanship and design.

As with all Portelli sculptures this piece told a tale of Michael Jackson's life through clever design and presentation.

The stunning sculpture will stay on show at the Mall Galleries for two weeks before being photographed with yet another rare Ferrari vehicle for Guy's joint photographic project with Dave and Peter.